The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address Period for Reply
A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.  - Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.  - If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.  - Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).
Status

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 4, 5, 16, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by SASAKI (6,854,175).

Note the embodiment of figure 19a. SASAK Ishows a thin film magnetic head with a lower pole layer (8) having an auxiliary magnetic pole (not numbered) made of a nitride or composite material of a magnetic material and an oxide (see column 5 lines 59-65), a depression filled with a non-magnetic material (90), and an upper magnetic pole (12A,12C). The lower pole with auxiliary pole is formed by sputtering (see column 5 lines 44-46).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Application/Control Number: 10/619,859

Art Unit: 2652

4. Claims 2, 3, 14, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over SASAKI (6,854,175) in view of KAMIJIMA (6,549,370).

SASAKI shows a thin film magnetic head substantially as claimed. SASAKI differs in not specifying a material for the non-magnetic mass.

KAMIJIMA teaches that the non-magnetic mass used to set the gap depth can be either a photoresist or non-magnetic metal (see column 9 lines 6-7)

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize either a photoresist or non-magnetic metal for the non-magnetic mass in SASAKI. The motivation is as follows: one of ordinary skill in the art would use any such known material where none was specified.

5. Applicant's arguments filed 9/12/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the amended claims define over SAITHO et al because the lower pole is not a nitride or composite material of a magnetic material and an oxide.

The recently issued patent to SASAKI shows a thin film head with a lower pole using nitride or a composite material of a magnetic material and an oxide. The claims have now been rejected using this reference.

Since Applicant only amended the claims to rewrite claims into independent form, this action is made non-final.
